01 BRAND DESCRIPTION VALUES & PURPOSE

Built from 3.5 years at Deloitte across tax compliance, GTM strategy, and project management, Hrithika Patalay is not a single-lane professional. She is a portfolio career builder a multi-passionate marketer, brand strategist, spirituality writer, and AI-curious thinker who has deliberately chosen breadth over the corporate ladder.

The brand operates across three interconnected identities, each with its own audience and revenue model:

H PATALAY	THE REGULATED GIRL	HRITHIKA PATALAY
Marketing consulting, brand strategy & project planning for founders and SMEs	Spirituality, manifestation, Sanatana Dharma & digital wellness products	Personal anchor brand portfolio career story, brand deals & lifestyle

THE FIVE CORE VALUES

AUTHENTICITY	REDIRECTED AMBITION	CURIOSITY	INTEGRATION	EMPOWERMENT
Refusing to box herself into a single identity	Driven by owned, scalable income not promotions	Future-ready via AI, emerging platforms & learning	Professional expertise and personal passion coexist	A career model other multi-passionate women can follow

BRAND PURPOSE

To demonstrate through lived example that the portfolio career is a viable, strategic, and empowering alternative to the corporate ladder; and to build businesses that generate value across marketing consulting, spiritual wellness, and personal brand education.

This purpose resonates with the broader cultural shift identified by Kessler (2024) in Forbes that portfolio careers are becoming an aspirational alternative for women who find the traditional career structure incompatible with their multidimensional realities.

02 TARGET AUDIENCE

The primary audience for H Patalay is early-stage startup founders and SME business owners in growth mode technically competent, but without a dedicated marketing function or budget for a full-time hire.

WHO ARE THEY

- Founders and SME owners, 28–45, UK-based or remote
- Often female-led or values-driven businesses
- In growth phase need structure, not just ideas
- Aware of AI and want to stay ahead of the curve

THEIR PAIN POINTS

- No clear or consistent brand identity
- Inconsistent or reactive marketing activity
- No lead generation system or content strategy
- Overwhelmed by platform choices and AI noise

EMPLOYER BRAND VALUES

- Agility over bureaucracy
- Authenticity over polish
- Results and accountability
- Advisors who have built things themselves

CHANNEL BEHAVIOUR

- Active on LinkedIn consume thought leadership
- Instagram for inspiration and peer discovery
- Responsive to long-form and practical content
- Trust built through consistency and specificity

03 BRAND PRISM KAPFERER MODEL

Kapferer's Brand Identity Prism (1992) maps a personal brand across six dimensions. For Hrithika Patalay, the prism reveals a rare coherence: corporate rigour and multi-passionate personality coexisting within a single, distinctive identity.

PHYSIQUE	PERSONALITY	CULTURE
Multi-hyphenate marketing, brand strategy, AI and spirituality rooted in Deloitte GTM and project management	Ambitious, curious, warm, non-conformist, future-ready the kind of person you want in the room AND in your corner	Portfolio career mindset. Anti-corporate-ladder. Women building on their own terms.

RELATIONSHIP	REFLECTION	SELF-IMAGE
Collaborative advisor, not just a vendor. Mentor-like. Long-term thinking over quick fixes.	Clients who want progressive, human-centred brand strategy founders who are building something that matters	A brand builder who is also a brand. Living what she teaches. The portfolio career as proof of concept.

The prism reveals the central strength: Hrithika occupies a rare space where corporate rigour sits alongside genuine multi-passionate interests. As Kapferer (2008) argues, the most resilient brands are those whose identity is multi-dimensional yet coherent what he terms 'identity with depth.'

04 POSITIONING AND PROPOSITION

For startup founders and SME owners who need expert marketing and brand strategy without the corporate overhead Hrithika Patalay is the consultant who brings Deloitte-grade rigour and AI-forward thinking to human, values-led businesses.

THE REGULATED GIRL PROPOSITION

A research-informed, personally lived guide to feminine regulation, manifestation, and Sanatana Dharma for modern women navigating high-performance lives monetised through e-books, frameworks, templates, courses, and downloadable resources.

05 DIGITAL COMMUNICATIONS PLAN

The overarching campaign The Portfolio Life documents Hrithika's journey building a multi-brand, multi-income career in real time. It uses a hub-and-spoke content model (Pulizzi, 2013) where long-form anchor content is adapted and distributed across platforms.

CHANNEL STRATEGY

PLATFORM	BRAND	CONTENT	FREQ.	GOAL
LinkedIn	H Patalay	Thought leadership, AI insights, case studies	3x / wk	Client acquisition
Instagram	H Patalay	Carousels, Reels, behind-the-scenes	4x / wk	Brand awareness
Substack	The Regulated Girl	Long-form essays, spiritual frameworks	1x / wk	Audience trust + product sales
Instagram	The Regulated Girl	Quote graphics, Reels, journal prompts	3x / wk	Reach & community growth
LinkedIn	Hrithika Patalay	Personal narrative, portfolio career story	2x / wk	Anchor brand + brand deals

The campaign operates as an integrated ecosystem rather than siloed platform activity. Content flows across channels: a LinkedIn article on AI in marketing becomes an Instagram carousel, which drives traffic to a Substack deep-dive, which links to a downloadable lead magnet. This creates what Chaffey and Ellis-Chadwick (2022) describe as a closed-loop digital marketing system.

LEAD GENERATION FUNNEL H PATALAY

01	Social Posts	LinkedIn + Instagram AWS Summit hot takes, AI tools for marketers, brand strategy insights
02	Lead Magnet	Free PDF 'The AI Marketing Toolkit: What Every Brand Strategist Needs to Know' email capture
03	Low Ticket	£47–£197 E-book, brand audit template, or AI marketing framework download
04	High Ticket	£1,500–£5,000+ Brand strategy sprint, marketing audit, or ongoing advisory retainer
05	Signed Client	DM → discovery call → proposal → contract. AWS Summit positions Hrithika as 'in the room'

INFLUENCING INFLUENCERS

Rather than passive content creation, the brand actively cultivates relationships with micro-influencers (5,000–50,000 followers) in the startup ecosystem, female entrepreneurship space, and marketing community following a three-stage model (Freberg et al., 2011):

THREE-STAGE APPROACH

Stage 1 Engage: Consistent, insightful comments on target influencer content before any outreach. Build familiarity publicly.

Stage 2 Value First: Share the AI Marketing Toolkit with an influencer in a way that serves their audience not a pitch, a gift.

Stage 3 Collaborate: Propose a LinkedIn Live, guest Substack post, or co-created carousel. AWS Summit as the credibility opening.

STORYTELLING THE PORTFOLIO LIFE

Origin Story: Why this path the decision to leave the corporate ladder, the realisation that multi-passionate is a strength not a flaw.

Process Story: How the portfolio is being built tools, setbacks, lessons, and real-time updates. The messy middle, shared honestly.

Results Story: Client wins, digital product launches, audience growth what following this path actually produces.

06 BRAND RECOGNITION AND ATTRACTION

Brand recognition is built through three dimensions of consistency (Aaker, 1991):

VISUAL	VERBAL	BEHAVIOURAL
Consistent colour palette, typography, and imagery across all three brand accounts	Direct, warm, intellectually curious, unafraid of contradiction a distinctive voice across every platform	Showing up consistently, posting regularly, and engaging authentically in comments and DMs

Brand attraction is driven by specificity and usefulness. A marketing consultant who posts generic tips is invisible. One who shares a specific insight from AWS Summit London, frames it through a brand strategy lens, and links it to a free downloadable toolkit is demonstrating competence and generosity simultaneously. This is the model Godin (2018) describes as 'permission marketing': earning attention through value, then converting it through trust.

Goal: become the go-to name for AI-forward brand strategy and portfolio career building for founders, SMEs, and multi-passionate women building on their own terms.
