Business Model & Market Logic

- B2B2C entry model
- Licensed TAPDK-registered importer/distributor-led entry
- Premium on-premise venues first
- Venue environment primary activation channel due to ad restrictions (EUCAM, 2022)
- Key substitutes: imported spirits, local rakı, premium beer
- Success depends on venue fit, customer trial, and reorder rate

BuzzBallz Turkey Growth Path

	Existing Markets	New Markets
Existing Products	Market Penetration Once pilot venues are established, deepen reorder rates,visibility, and units-per-venue within the initial Turkish footprint.	Market Development Launch BuzzBallz into Turkey through licensed importer-led premium on-premise channels. Year 1 priority.
New Products	Product Development introduce low-ABV, sharing, or Türkiye-specific variants for local hospitality demand after pilot validation	Diversification Test adjacent event, hospitality, or co-branded growth plays only after Year 1 KPI Gate is cleared

Turkiye entry = Market Development starting point. All other quadrants follow once the importer-venue foundation is in place

Market Penetration

01 IMPORTER-LED VENUE ACTIVATION

Drive trial through 3–5 pilot premium on-premise accounts in Istanbul, with Antalya added only after initial KPI review.

02 TARGETED CITY ROLLOUT

Istanbul serves as the Year 1 anchor market; Antalya is a controlled seasonal extension, not a parallel mass rollout.

03 SALES PLAYS

Increase units per venue through menu placement, staff advocacy, reorder incentives, and selective upsell into larger-format serves only where venue fit is proven.

Sales marketing alignment

Unified objective

Drive trial and repeat purchase in Istanbul and Antalya

Synchronise campaigns

with product availability to convert awareness into sales and avoid stock gaps

Importer/distributor alignment

Single licensed importer ensures consistent on-premise activation, stock availability, and venue relationship management across Istanbul and Antalya

Marketing drives demand through influencers, events, and social media; sales ensures distribution and in-store/on-trade presence

Market development

Context: Market Development

• BuzzBallz = established US RTD brand entering a new geography
• Türkiye = high-growth tourism & premium on-trade alcohol market
• 52.6M international tourists | $61.1B revenue (2024)
• Strong consumption in hospitality-led environments (bars, hotels, beach clubs)

Geographic Rollout

• Year 1 — Core Markets → Istanbul (year-round demand, distribution hub) → Antalya (high-volume resort tourism)
• Year 2 — Bodrum & Alaçatı (premium nightlife & brand visibility)
• Year 3 — Expansion Markets → Marmaris, Urla, Fethiye
→ Focus: Tourism density, nightlife, premium spend

Strategic Objective

→ Validate BuzzBallz in premium hospitality channels
→ Build visibility in high-footfall tourism zones
→ Scale based on reorder rates, not just trial

Channel Entry & GTM Strategy

New Channel Entry Strategy

01

- Phase 1 — Revenue & Visibility → Bars, beach clubs, rooftop venues, hotels

02

- Phase 2 — Awareness & Trial → Festivals, curated events, seasonal activations

03

- Phase 3 — Long-Term Adoption → Private universities (Gen Z lifestyle alignment)

GTM & Route-to-Market

- B2B2C Model: BuzzBallz → TAPDK-licensed importer → venue → consumer

- Year 2 — Hybrid Model → Direct key account management + distributor scale

BuzzBallz

- Distributor dependency → performance-based contracts + backup partners

BuzzBallz

Product Development Roadmap

Localising BuzzBallz for the Turkish Market

SKU 1 — Lower ABV version (8–10%)

- The Turkish alcohol market is projected to reach $6.9B by 2029, but per-capita consumption remains low. Regulation and cultural factors favour lighter entry options.
- A lower ABV version reduces barriers to trial and broadens the target audience.
- Supports smoother regulatory positioning and responsible consumption messaging.

SKU 2 — Turkish-inspired flavours

- Pomegranate & Citrus
- Fig & Spice
- Watermelon Mint
- Follows the same localisation strategy used in India (Berry Lemon Squeeze, Chilli Guava Groove).
- This approach demonstrates BuzzBallz's ability to adapt flavours to regional preferences.

SKU 3 — Smaller format, 150ml (proposed new SKU)

- Lower entry price for a price-sensitive market.
- Encourages trial and impulse purchases.
- Supports distribution in convenience stores and travel retail, especially at Istanbul airport.

BuzzBallz

Entering Premium: A Skimming Strategy

Format	Target Price £	Target Price TRY	Channel	Timeline
150ml Core (proposed new SKU — current range is 200ml)	£10	₺600	Lounges, rooftop bars, beach clubs	Month 1–6
150ml Core (proposed new SKU — current range is 200ml)	£10	₺600	Off-trade, duty Istanbul Airport duty free	Month 1–6
Biggies 1.75L	£28–32	₺1,680–1,920	On-trade, On-trade, hotel events	Month 7–12

Why £10?

- Price anchor: Fresh juice in Turkey = £7–8
- BuzzBallz = £10 — premium but justifiable
- No direct RTD competitor → Price Setter position
- ÖTV tax (63–220%) + VAT 18% absorbed into price — not passed to consumer

Protecting the Premium: Tools & Risk

Volume Discounts

Tool 1

Tiered discounts for our licensed TAPDK-registered importer/distributor based on order volume. Consumer RRP of £10 stays locked — distributor absorbs the incentive, not the end price.

Payment Term

Tool 2

30-day terms for established wholesale accounts. Immediate payment for new accounts — essential in Turkey's high-inflation environment.

Discovery Bundle

Tool 3

3-flavour trial pack for lounge onboarding. Drives trial at launch without breaking the single-unit £10 RRP. Phase 1 only

Internal Factors

High cost base (ÖTV + import duties) · Premium marketing objective · Iconic packaging = perceived value

External Factors

No RTD competitor → Price Setter · Urban Gen Z willingness to pay · Turkish alcohol taxation (63–220%)

Key Risk — A 15% price cut with a 50% contribution margin requires a 43% volume increase just to break even (Session 6 — Price-Volume Trade-Off). The £10 RRP is non-negotiable and contractually enforced with all distribution partners.

BuzzBallz

Diversification and partnerships

Solution 01 - Tourism & Hospitality

- BuzzBallz entering Türkiye's premium hospitality channel is a bounded adjacent play, new market, existing product, controlled risk
- Target hotels, beach clubs, rooftop bars, and resort operators in Istanbul and Antalya

Solution 02 - Partner & Distribution Strategy

- Year 1 should not attempt broad diversification, high taxes, promotion restrictions, and compliance complexity make it too costly to execute at scale
- Anchor BD through a vetted importer/distributor partner with premium access, compliance capability, and geographic reach in Istanbul.

Solution 03 - Year 1 vs Year 2 Roadmap

- Year 1: pilot hospitality partnerships only, prove repeat sales and channel fit before scaling
- Year 2: expand to wholesalers and selective lifestyle partnerships once GTM is established

BuzzBallz

BD and Wholesaler strategy

Istanbul is Türkiye's main import and distribution hub. All Year 1 wholesaler and hospitality agreements should be anchored through a distributor with premium channel access, compliance capability, and established trade relationships in this corridor.

Year 1 Priority

Pilot hospitality partnerships in Istanbul & Antalya through a vetted local importer/distributor

Year 2 Target

Scale through established local wholesalers and HORECA distributors once repeat sales are proven

AI in Sales — Three Pillars for Turkey

Sazerac already uses Azure Synapse & Silverside AI globally — BuzzBallz Turkey inherits this infrastructure from Day 1

01 Demand Forecasting

- Use Azure Synapse analytics to forecast channel-wise sell-in volumes, integrating seasonal demand patterns (Ramadan dips, summer peaks, Istanbul Fashion Week spikes) and a TRY inflation module that auto-adjusts RRP monthly.

02 Lead Scoring

- Leverage Silverside AI to rank Turkish distributor and venue prospects by account size, urban footprint, RTD readiness, and social media activity, auto-prioritising the top 20 for BDM outreach each sprint cycle.

03 Social Listening

- Use Brandwatch to monitor Turkish TikTok and Instagram activity, tracking UGC and hashtag velocity with alerts for flavour sentiment, competitor launches, and negative PR, feeding insights into monthly Sales–Marketing alignment meetings.

Key Commercial Assumptions

Area	Working assumption
Market focus	Year 1 demand comes mainly from premium on-premise venues
Geography	Istanbul first, Antalya controlled extension
Pricing	£10 / ₺600 entry for 150ml; Biggies £28–32 / ₺1,680–1,920
Channel scope	No broad off-trade / retail in Year 1
Sales model	Pilot first, repeat sales validate expansion
Distributor model	One importer / distributor in Year 1
Validation logic	KPI gates determine whether scale proceeds
Roadmap logic	Q1 foundation, Q2 validation, Q3 controlled expansion, Q4 scale decision

These assumptions are working commercial inputs used to structure the 12-month plan, not guaranteed outcomes.

BuzzBallz

Appendix

Strategic Framing Note

SALES DECK APPENDIX

Year 1 prioritises a controlled premium hospitality entry rather than broad multi-channel expansion.

- Primary route: premium on-premise venues
- Geography: Istanbul anchor, Antalya controlled extension
- Route-to-market: single licensed importer / distributor
- Broader channels and geographies are assessed, but deferred until KPI gates are met

Purpose: clarify what is primary, exploratory, and deferred in the 12-month growth plan.

BuzzBallz

Appendix

Channel Priority Map

Channel	Priority	Role in Plan
Premium bars, rooftops, hotels, beach clubs	Primary	Core Year 1 revenue engine
Curated events	Secondary	Selective awareness support only
Private universities	Exploratory	Longer-term visibility, not a core Year 1 sales channel
Broader off-trade / retail	Deferred	Consider only after market validation and KPI gates

This map clarifies what is core, selective, and deferred in the 12-month growth plan.

BuzzBallz

Appendix

Geographic Rollout Logic

1. Year 1 — Istanbul
   Anchor market: distribution hub and year-round demand
2. Year 1 — Antalya
   Controlled extension: seasonal resort tourism
3. Year 2 — Bodrum & Alaçatı
   Selective premium visibility expansion
4. Year 3 — Marmaris / Fethiye / others
   Broader tourism-led scale

Launch sequencing protects focus, preserves resources, and reduces execution risk.

Distributor Landscape Considered

Purpose of this scan

This scan does not claim a final contracted distribution partner. Its purpose is to show that importer/distributor selection was treated as a strategic decision and assessed across multiple market-player types before narrowing the Year 1 route-to-market logic.

Category	Example players	Strategic takeaway
Global corporations	Pernod Ricard, Brown-Forman, Bacardi	Strong networks and credibility, but may be less aligned to a focused Year 1 pilot if attention is spread across larger portfolios.
Major domestic distributors	Topkapı Spirits, BT Sales & Marketing, Cork International, Intrade Trading, Ulusal Marketing, Utku Beverages	Most relevant screening pool for Year 1 because they may combine local access with more flexible execution.
Producer-distributors	Anadolu Efes, Burgaz Spirits, Günsu Group	Strong route-to-market capability, but may prioritise their own portfolios and production economics.
Boutique / niche importers	Alcanlar, Altuntaş Ticaret, Karasalkım Ltd, Yiko Foreign Trade	Potentially attractive for a controlled premium pilot due to higher focus and lower conflict, but with possible scale limitations.

This landscape shows that the Year 1 decision is not simply about who is biggest, but about which partner type best fits a controlled premium on-premise launch.

BuzzBallz

Appendix

What This Means for Year 1 Partner Choice

SALES DECK APPENDIX

1. Selection logic

- Year 1 requires alignment over maximum reach
- Premium on-premise access matters more than mass-market breadth
- Lower portfolio conflict improves focus and execution
- Clear accountability is easier with one importer/distributor than with a multi-partner setup
- Istanbul and Antalya coverage matters more than nationwide scale at launch

2. Implication for partner choice

The market scan suggests that the strongest Year 1 partner is unlikely to be the largest player overall, but the player with the best fit for a controlled premium on-premise pilot. This shifts the recommendation toward a focused importer/distributor with strong hospitality access, compliance capability, and limited portfolio conflict, rather than a maximum-reach partner from day one.

3. Recommended Year 1 partner profile

- One vetted licensed importer/distributor
- Strong premium on-premise access
- Good compliance and reporting discipline
- Willingness to support a 12-month KPI-gated pilot
- Limited channel or portfolio conflict

The objective is not to identify every possible distributor in Türkiye, but to demonstrate that partner choice was approached systematically and aligned to the Year 1 launch strategy.

BuzzBallz

Appendix

Preferred Year 1 Route & Partner Logic

SALES DECK APPENDIX

1. Preferred Year 1 route

Single exclusive importer/distributor-led entry through premium on-premise venues, with Istanbul as the anchor market and Antalya as the controlled extension.

2. Preferred lead candidate

KA Spirits

3. Why KA Spirits

- Publicly positioned around premium spirits services and distributorship
- Best fit with a controlled premium hospitality pilot
- Alignment, focus, and execution discipline matter more than maximum network breadth in Year 1

4. Reserve option

Marka Import or a similar major domestic premium distributor, if wider account coverage is needed after early pilot validation.

5. Why Diageo Türkiye matters as a benchmark

- Useful benchmark for long-run route-to-market maturity
- Illustrates what a scaled in-market model can look like: local sales offices, warehouses, and broad distribution reach
- Relevant as an end-state benchmark, not the preferred Year 1 launch blueprint

Recommendation: Use KA Spirits as the preferred Year 1 lead candidate, keep Marka Import / similar premium domestic distributors as reserve options, and treat Diageo Türkiye as the benchmark for later-stage in-market maturity once KPI gates are met.

Evidence base: KA Spirits website; Altamura Distilleries distributor listing; Diageo Türkiye facilities; Diageo Europe route-to-market overview.
